Elba City Council awards $5.3 million bid for sewer improvements project

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba City Council awarded the contract for Elba's sewer improvements project Monday night, June 8, during the regular council meeting.

Upon recommendation from project engineers, CDG Engineers and Associates, the project was awarded to Blakenship Contracting Inc. The council awarded the base bid of $5,017,191 and four additional alternate bids for a total project cost of $5,389,366.

CDG project manager Carmen Chosie said this bid came in well under budget, and that Rural Development was good with awarding the bid.

The city had an approximate $7.4 million budget for construction on the sewer project. Therefore, Chosie said that leaves approximately $1.2 million for the city to have to work with should additional needs arise throughout the project.

Following a motion by council member Jane Brunson and a second from council member Tom Maddox, the motion to award to Blakenship was approved unanimously.

Chosie said ideally, she expects work by the contractor to begin mid-July to early-August. The project is expected to be completed within 300 consecutive days.

The council revisited a previous discussion on the use of golf carts, ATVs and UTVs on the city streets.

A work session on the matter was held Thursday evening, June 4, with the council, police chief, city attorney [via telephone] and several citizens in attendance. After a lengthy discussion of what is legal and what is not legal, along with ideas of what could be done, the work session concluded with the council asking attorney Bart Boothe to further look into several different matters.

Monday evening during the council meeting, Boothe presented his findings to the council.

"At last week's work session, I was made aware [the council] wanted more information regarding the legality of golf carts, low speed vehicles [LSV], and other off-road vehicles upon city streets," Boothe said. "Because golf carts are not 'vehicles' under current analysis [of Alabama law], they are not allowed on public roadways or sidewalks, except in Baldwin County where that county has a constitutional amendment allowing municipalities there to enact ordinances and zones for the operation of golf carts on the public roads."

Boothe noted that in contrast to golf carts, an LSV can be registered in Alabama and operated upon roadways. He said the county probate office shall register an LSV for operation in Alabama if said vehicle complies with all safety aspects of 49 CFR 571.500.

"Off road vehicles that are manufactured for that purpose and that are labeled as such cannot be legal upon the street," Boothe said. "Because the registration of an LSV requires such vehicle to be manufactured for its intended purpose, it is not possible to convert a golf cart or other

EMERGENCY PERSONNEL IN ELBA RESPONDED TO A TWO-VEHICLE WRECK Saturday, June 6, at 9:49 a.m. at the intersection of the Hwy 203 Bypass and Martin Luther King Drive/Taylor Mill Road. Officials said a 2001 Ford F150 truck was attempting to cross the 203 Bypass from Martin Luther King Drive to Taylor Mill Road when the driver pulled into oncoming traffic on the bypass. A 2014 Toyota Camry was travelling on the 203 Bypass and swerved to try and avoid colliding with the truck, but the two vehicles made impact. The Camry ended up in the ditch by the intersection (as shown above). There was a small child in the car that was secured in a car seat. The car seat was removed after the collision, and the unharmed child was taken out of the seat. No injuries were reported in this accident. Elba Police, Elba Fire, and Haynes Ambulance all responded to the scene.

A short police pursuit last Thursday afternoon, June 4, resulted in this crash on Putnam Street in downtown Elba. The driver of the vehicle, Ricky Hill of Elba, was arrested on multiple charges for the incident. He also had several outstanding warrants.

Short-lived police pursuit leads to wreck on Putnam Street

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A vehicle pursuit Thursday afternoon through downtown Elba ended with the suspect vehicle crashing into a light pole, in which the driver was soon thereafter arrested on multiple charges.

At 3:51 p.m. Thursday, June 4, Elba Police dispatch received a report of a reckless driver on Alabama Highway 87 coming into Elba. An officer was dispatched and soon made contact with the suspect vehicle.

The officer turned around to pursue the suspect vehicle, and upon turning around Elba Police Chief Leslie Hussey said the officer observed the suspect vehicle on the wrong side of the road. He said the vehicle continued to swerve back and forth on the road until it crashed into the back of another vehicle stopped [at the stop sign] at the intersection of Hwy. 87 and the 203 Bypass.

Hussey said the suspect vehicle backed up and fled the scene. He said the officer began pursuit of the suspect vehicle, and this continued until the suspect vehicle crashed into a light pole in the 800 Block of Putnam Street.

The suspect then proceeded to flee on foot, and Chief Hussey said the officer chased until he could not run any longer. At that point, he said two citizens stepped in and assisted in stopping the suspect.

The suspect, Ricky Ricardo Hill, age 24, of Elba,

Also hired was Sydney Crittenden to be the Pre-K auxiliary teacher for the new second Pre-K class.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"We must remember that any oppression, any injustice, any hatred, is a wedge designed to attack our civilization." — Franklin D. Roosevelt

An unidentified Alabama mother is fighting to stop a court order approving the withholding of life support from her young son, described as being terminally ill. Medical folks assert that the efforts to keep him alive are very painful to the child and will only prolong his agony. From afar we agree with the ruling allowing the withholding of those efforts. However, as a parent we would probably do exactly what this mother is doing, except our efforts would be more aggressive . . . if that was at all possible. Often times society acts in what could be called an "inhuman" way when dealing with such issues. Yet there is a strong argument that approving the withholding of life support in cases like this terminal illness is one of the greatest acts of love a parent can exhibit.

The above is not to be critical of terms of Living Wills where the mature, sane adult spells out conditions in which they legally request "Do Not Resuscitate", and other heroic medical procedures, which often include "if such resuscitation will not improve my life, but only prolong the agony."

The British history-oriented magazine "Prospect" regularly has some interesting and well written articles. This week there is a story about Shakespeare, comparing his life during the plague of the late 1500s, being quarantined, etc., with the modern day battle against the coronavirus. This writer thinks the Bard passed his lockdown days writing King Lear and several lesser known poems, including Venue and Adonis. This latter one would probably get some church folks upset if the English teachers had students reciting, and interpreting it in class, but the author does a good job of relating the story of a young man wrapped up in the sport of hunting and a sexually active young woman with the major challenge of the day, which was avoiding the Black Plague. Clearly a student of Shakespeare the author, Emma Smith, cites this poem as the root of several of the Bard's later works, including As You Like It, Much Ado About Nothing, and Twelfth Night. Now . . . if you are still in lockdown and bored out of your skull, you can try reading some of the above poems by the loved/hated poet. Writing them got William through the lockdown and reading them might help you. However, it is probably not a good idea to explain the details of the plot of Venue and Adonis in church meetings.

Roger Simon and of course his late dad, Dave Simon, are well known in Elba to folks associated with Dorsey Trailers. These California folks were a 'rock' of the Dorsey dealerships of years ago. Father Dave died as we reported some time back and now Roger has closed their trailer dealership and guess what? Leased the property to a student transportation firm. The Simons have been faithful subscribers to The Elba Clipper for many years and always stopped by the office when in Elba on trailer business. Roger read our comments about reading Jon Meacham books and is himself reading Meacham's book on Franklin (the president). He had the fortunate chance of hearing Meacham speak last year at an 150th anniversary of the transcontinental railroad in Utah and was much impressed with him as a speaker. Roger likes the Meacham book and also recommended us reading Margaret Bourke-White's Portrait of Myself. We looked her up and she was a female photographer who was a "first" in a number of categories — American making pictures in Russian industries, female war correspondent, female national magazine photographer, etc.

ADPH reduces operating hours for statewide COVID-19 hotline

Based on a reduction in telephone call volume after hours, the Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) has shortened the operating hours of its statewide informational hotline for general COVID-19 questions.

Effective June 15, the toll-free line will be available from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., seven days a week. If the need presents itself, hours can be readjusted quickly.

The hotline allows the public the ability to speak with someone who can provide information or direct them to a contact who can assist them. A general information email option is also available during these hours.

The toll-free hotline number and e-mail address are as follows:

- COVID-19 General Information - 800-270-7268

- The COVID-19 General Information Email address - covid19info@adph.state.al.us

In addition, a toll-free phone line will continue to provide information about available testing sites and hours of operation statewide. This phone number is 888-264-2256. Callers are asked for their zip code to help locate the site nearest them.

The ADPH website at alabamapublichealth.gov also offers information and guidance about COVID-19 recommendations. Frequently asked questions are answered at alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19/faq.html.

There are days when Cuzin Lou Lou, like most anyone she imagines, wonders if what she is doing is making a difference to anyone.

2020 has been an especially trying year as the COVID-19 pandemic has changed so much about normal life. Folks who report the news — not just referring to the national perpetrators trying to get the next big headline — but the ones that really take the job seriously seem to also get looked down upon because of the 'bad eggs' in the business. And, the way the job is done has actually gotten much harder this year because of COVID-19, yet those dedicated continue to plug along and roll with the punches.

This week, however, Cuzin Lou Lou got a sign that maybe all is not lost for those who work hard day in and day out to report factual and informative news to their readers. That working hard to do your best and sharing your knowledge with others is still the best route to take.

A former intern sent a letter this week simply saying 'thanks' for the knowledge and experiences passed on to him.

"I feel like I am constantly using the things that I learned during my summer there," he wrote.

This young man has been given more responsibilities where he attends college for that school's newspaper, and he said he learned via his internship that he could always help his younger writers.

That truly warmed Cuzin Lou Lou's heart. To know that in some way, she helped mold a young journalist by helping him to see that LOCAL journalism does matter...that is what it is all about in her mind.

Lou Lou has always contended that local newspapers are the balance of a community, and the stories covered in those newspaper may not be Pulitzer winning articles, but they have meaning and they have heart.

Whether she is writing a funny column or a serious news article, Cuzin Lou Lou can only hope that the impressions she leaves on others is that she cares about her job, she cares about her community, and she cares about doing the right thing — always.

This lesson possibly could be applied to all walks in life and not just the local newspaper.

Whatever you do, do it with compassion, and try to be a good example for those watching you!

Until next time...Keep Smiling and God Bless!!

COUNCIL

Boothe said he had found that in 2019 and again this year there was legislation, first introduced by Senator Jimmy Holley and this year by Senator Clyde Chambliss that would avoid the need for a local amendment. However, he said the legislation was not addressed before the end of the session either year.

If such legislation were to be introduced in a future year and passed, Boothe said, as currently written this year, it would allow cities to define certain zones of use for non-conforming off road vehicles such as golf carts.

Further, Boothe said a local amendment could be pursued by having the council publish its desire to introduce legislation four weeks prior to a regular session of the State Legislature and then after publication the city would have one of its state legislators introduce the bill for approval to be placed on the ballot at the next general election. Boothe said this kind of local amendment could be begun by the city and be city specific, but it would take time to go through all the steps.

Boothe said in all statutes he had found on the matter of golf carts, etc. being used on streets, none allowed for children to operate the golf carts or LSV's. He said all indicated the golf cart, LSV, etc. must be operated by a licensed driver.

After hearing Boothe's report, council members chose to take no action at this time on the golf carts issue in Elba. Therefore, the law remains that it is illegal to operate such vehicles on the roadways at this time.

It was noted by several council members that it would be beneficial if the legislation that had been introduced the past two years, which would be a statewide movement, would be introduced again next year and passed. If that would happen, the city could then pass an ordinance with specific guidelines for use to make it a legal matter.

Until then, the policing of the matter will be left to the discretion of Elba Police Officers.

As he had said previously, Police Chief Leslie Hussey said to his knowledge no citation had ever been written for adults using golf carts in their neighborhoods as long as they were not being a nuisance. However, he said that remains at the discretion of officers on how to handle the manner should they encounter someone operating one on the roadways, at this time.

Boothe said he had spoken with representatives at the League of Municipalities, and he said officials there said this is not an issue only for Elba. He said the desire to be able to operate golf carts on neighborhood roads is something that continues to gain support all across the state.

“Basically, the law is behind what the people want at this time,” he said.

Also during Monday night's meeting, the council was updated on the measures taken to try and get trash pickup caught up across the city.

City clerk Sally Bane said the city was still running two trucks with a 2-person crew on each truck as of this week. However, she said if all went well this week, there was confidence that everything would be caught up and the trash truck pickup would return to a regular schedule.

The next city council meeting is set for Monday, June 22, at 5:30 p.m.

ARREST

Ala., was arrested and charged on several offenses. In relation to last Thursday's incident, Chief Hussey said Hill was charged with one count of attempting to elude, one count of resisting arrest, and one count of duty to give information and render aide after a traffic accident (for the wreck at the 87/203 intersection). Also, the chief said Hill was written 10 separate traffic citations for the incident, including a driving under the influence citation.

Additionally, Chief Hussey said there were five outstanding warrants on Hill, included a previous attempt to elude charge and four failure to appear charges, for which he also was arrested.

CCBOE

As for support personnel, the board approved the following recommendation from Killingsworth:

- Approved resignation of Jack Mullinax, bus driver for New Brockton Schools
- Non-renewal of Helena Spikes, bus driver for New Brockton Schools
- Employment of Bobbie McNeil, lunchroom worker at Zion Chapel
- Employment of Tom Brown, lunchroom worker at Zion Chapel.

The board approved the purchase of 4-door Ford Explorer from the state bid list. Killingsworth said this vehicle would be used by the central office; however, he said there might be a need to use it also in the fall for continued drivers' education courses.

Board member also approved listing some surplus items and older vehicles for sale on GovDeals.com. Killingsworth said this included a 2008 bus that did not pass inspection due to a floor issue, and a 1997 Ford Taurus that was still being used as a driver's education vehicle.

Additional surplus items being listed included cafeteria tables, milk coolers and other cafeteria items.

Permission was also given by vote to allow for CNP products such as produce and milk to be bid. The superintendent said this is done annually.

Following the meeting, a reception was held honoring Donna Hattaway, the superintendent's secretary. She is retiring after more than 41 years of service. [Look for more on this in next week's edition of The Elba Clipper.]

The next regular meeting for the Coffee County BOE will be Thursday, July 9, at 5:30 p.m.

Our Family Serving Your Family Since 1934

It's Probably Too Late to Send Flowers. What now?

It is never too late to send flowers or express your condolences for the death of a loved one. Yes, there are timelines related to ordering flowers for services surrounding a death but there are many other ways to show your sympathy. Here are some meaningful ways to share your sympathy:

Charitable Donations: It is very common for memorial contributions to be made to a favorite charity in lieu of flowers. The best way to find this out is through the obituary or funeral service information or by asking family and friends of the deceased. Usually, the organization will send a notice of thanks to you for the donation and let the family know that you have made a donation in honor of their loved one.

Personal Note: Another way of expressing your sympathies is through a personal note. Sometimes funerals are so overwhelming that flowers and items sent to the site of service are not recognized until long after the death. Taking the time to put your thoughts together and sharing them via a personal letter, phone call, or visit is even more meaningful and can provide great comfort to the family of the deceased. If you need addresses or contact information, try calling the funeral director or perhaps a mutual friend.

Memorable Item or Photos: Consider your relationship with the deceased. Do you have any photos or items that are memorable? Perhaps you could share them with relatives of the deceased. Sometimes it is comforting to hear how their loved ones touched others' lives. This will give you a chance to share memories and a piece of your relationship with them. Contact the funeral director or service provider regarding the best way to share these items with the family.

Harris Temple COGIC gives back to the community

Church leaders and members of Harris Temple COGIC of Elba shared their love for the community last Saturday morning, June 6, as the church provided free gas to customers of the Marathon (Mr. Henry's) store in downtown Elba. The church paid for and pumped $10 worth of gas for 80 cars Saturday morning putting $800 back into the Elba economy, and sharing the Christian belief in giving to others.

Harris Temple COGIC Superintendent W.K. Ellison is shown pumping gas for one of the 80 cars that received $10 of free gas courtesy of the church last Saturday morning, June 6, in Elba. This act of giving was done at the Mr. Henry's store in downtown Elba.

Pastor's Corner

by Dwight Johnson, Lead Pastor • ELBA FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Opinions. Everyone has them, and is entitled to them. We are free to express them, and love to do so, as evidenced by social media.

Personally, I've found that before speaking or posting, I'm well served to pass my thoughts through some filters. The filters purify them, alter them, and sometimes change them altogether.

One very applicable Bible verse is James 1:19 – "Understand this, my dear brothers and sisters: You must all be quick to listen, slow to speak, and slow to get angry." If we would actually practice this, we would spare ourselves and others much heartache and regret. Consider:

We need to learn to listen, to God and to others. Have you ever spoken to someone while their eyes were looking all around you? Have you tried to speak to someone about something important to you, just to have them interrupt every few words? These people aren't listening. They're either distracted, uninterested, or debating. While this hurts, we have to admit that we all are guilty of not listening. We are good at talking about what interests us. What we're not good at is having interest in what interests others. If we value others, we will value their thoughts, even if they differ from ours. Conversations with God are often not conversations at all – they are one sided rehearsals of wish lists and problems.

God wants to speak to us, too. He has instruction, and words of encouragement. We never hear them if we aren't listening. So, let's "listen up!"

There is no valor in impulsive responses. In social media and elsewhere, there is an abundance of opinion, but a famine of wisdom. When we are "slow to speak," we allow words and feelings to pass through the filters of our mind and spirit. Do we ponder, process, and consider? Do we think about what God's Word says? Is it possible that the other person might be right, or at least have a valid point? Maybe our filters leave our thoughts unchanged, but our response does change. After all, even the greatest soldiers have to choose their battles. You can't win them all if you try to fight them all – it will wear you out. Maybe instead of going in with our verbal or digital guns blazing, we should use our most effective, most strategic, silent weapon – prayer. I am convinced that far more is changed through prayer than through posts.

When we are "quick to listen" and "slow to speak," the result will usually be that we become "slow to get angry." The filters that we have passed through give us pause, perspective, and peace.

Let's be biblical, in both the content of our opinions and the manner in which we express them.

** God is the Pilot

The story is told of a mother and her three children who were taking a long flight together aboard a commercial airliner. About an hour into the flight, the plane unexpectedly ran into some turbulence, which caused it to drop suddenly and shake violently. The passengers became alarmed and some began to scream and cry out. But one of the three children, a six-year-old boy, remained calm throughout the whole episode. Later one of the attendants stopped and complimented the lad for his remarkable courage when everyone else seemed to panic. "Oh, I didn't have any reason to be afraid," responded the boy. "My daddy is the pilot!" King Ahaz and the people of Judah, learning that Israel and Syria were conspiring against them, became so frightened that their hearts were shaking like the "trees of the wood...moved with the wind" (Isaiah 7:2). The Lord sent Isaiah to Ahaz to give the troubled king the assurance that Judah had nothing to fear from this threat. After all, God – the "pilot" of the universe – was still handling the controls.

Elba City Schools excited to add additional Pre-K classroom for 2020-2021 school year

Governor Kay Ivey and the Alabama Department of Early Childhood Education recently announced the nationally-recognized, high quality Alabama First Class Pre-K program would add 55 new classrooms this fall.

As a result of the selection process, Elba City Schools (ECS) was chosen out of 123 classroom applications to receive a $120,000 grant to start a second Pre-K classroom.

Due to the additional classroom, seven to ten more student slots are available and ECS is excited to make this addition available to the community.

"In order to take advantage of this opportunity, complete the online registration for your child at <https://alprek.asapconnected.com>," said Kenya Martin, Elba Elementary School counselor.

Enrollment is open to all children four years of age on or before September 1, 2020* who are residents of the state of Alabama (children who are eligible for kindergarten are ineligible). Enrollees must provide a copy of the child's birth certificate and immunization record (may be uploaded into the online pre-registration site or submitted directly to the local school/program).

There is no registration fee for this program, and no child will be denied participation on basis of income, sex, race, color, national origin, or disability.

This program is currently set to start on August 6, 2020. There will be a parent/student orientation set for July 30, 2020.

Locals graduate from University of Alabama

The University of Alabama awarded some 6,326 degrees this spring. Among the graduates was:

- Leslie Ethridge of New Brockton, Ala., who received a Bachelor of Science in nursing.
- Brooklyn Gillis of Kinston, Ala., who received a Bachelor of Science.
- Caroline Hataway of Kinston, Ala., who received a Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering.

The recent change to remote learning during this unprecedented time affected the University's plans for traditional commencement activities. However, commencement is a milestone, and the University wants graduates to have the opportunity to walk across the stage in celebration of their success.

Senior centers continue to serve their communities with meals

COVID-19 shut down daily operations at senior centers all across Alabama in March, however, meals have continued to be delivered to senior citizens.

Donna Fall, Elba Senior Center director, said the meals have been a blessing to many seniors across the county. She said the seniors look forward to their meal delivery time each week day.

"Many of them are greatly missing the daily interactions they had with their friends at the centers," Falls said. "So, they look forward to seeing us coming with the meals mostly because it means they will get a hello and be able to talk to someone, if only for a few brief moments."

Falls said it is heartbreaking to see the seniors struggle with not being able to come to the centers currently because of the COVID-19 pandemic, but she said she and other directors are trying to come up with other ideas to help the seniors pass the time.

Falls said she has dropped off puzzles, crafts and other things for the seniors when the meals are dropped off. She said she wants to just keep them occupied with fun activities so they will not focus on missing out on being at the center, especially those seniors with no family nearby.

"We love our seniors and we want to do all we can for them," Falls said. "One day we will get back and will have a big party!"

COMMUNITY NEWS

Opening day of Elba Farmers Market considered a huge success

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Opening day for the Elba Farmers Market arrived Saturday, June 6, and there was no doubt it was going to be a good day as there already was a crowd waiting to shop when the market opened at 8 a.m.

"Opening day was more than we could have hoped for," committee member Destiny Hudson excitedly said. "Many of the vendors sold out of produce in a very short time, which tells me the interest is definitely there!"

Several of the vendors noted it was still early in the season for some of their crops, and they would have more in the coming weeks.

Local grower Buddy Clark was selling his sweet corn last Saturday morning, and it was going in a hurry. He assured several folks that stopped by his booth that in the coming weeks, as the crops mature, he would add things such as watermelon and cantaloupe to his bounty for sale.

Others also noted they would have increased product as the summer continues, saying it was just too early yet for some of their produce to be ready to sell.

"It was awesome!" Elba resident Starla Amison said of the Farmers Market. "I got there a little too late to get some veggies, but I am so thankful that our vendors do so well. It was also great to see everyone. I think I will get there early next time, do my shopping, then visit. Awesome addition to our great town."

Hudson admitted the overwhelming response by the public was more than even the vendors expected last Saturday, which caused some to sell out quickly. They hope to avoid that this Saturday, according to Hudson.

"Vendors plan to bring more [product] this week, and we are working on adding more vendors with fresh produce," she said.

RIBBON CUTTING OFFICIALLY OPENS ELBA FARMERS MARKET...The Elba Chamber of Commerce hosted a ribbon cutting Saturday morning, June 6, to officially open the Elba Farmers Market at 8 a.m. Located on the Hwy 203 Bypass in Elba, the Elba Farmers Market will be open every Saturday from 8 a.m. until 12 noon through August. Those participating in Saturday's ribbon cutting included (from left): Tom Maddox, Sally Bane, Jane Brunson, Junior Miss Elba May Morgan Lusk, Laurie Chapman, Destiny Hudson, Petite Miss Elba Elizabeth James, Future Little Miss Elba Olivia Grantham, Sandy Bynum, Elba Mayor Mickey Murdock, Miss Elba Kate Hudson, Little Miss Elba Piper Astemborski, Rory Vignola, Young Miss Elba Hillary Hudson, Gappa Wise, Teen Miss Elba Danielle Tidwell, Gavin Mauldin, and Aaron Pope.

is open each Saturday thru August from 8 a.m. until 12 noon under the tent in the commercial lot next to the Elba Gulf Travel Center [Hwy 203 Bypass]. Throughout the summer, the committee hopes this venture will only grow and get better and better.

"There will be some new and fun things available in the coming weeks," Hudson said. "Our Farmers Market will look different each week!"

The Elba Farmers Market opens again Saturday, June 13, at 8 a.m. All are encouraged to come 'snap' up some locally grown products to enjoy! A variety of products are expected.

In the photo to the left, Little Miss Elba Piper Astemborski delivers the bounty received by Elba Queens from the Food Drive held Saturday, June 6, benefitting the Elba Food Bank, which is housed in the fellowship building of the Elba Church of Christ. The Food Drive generated lots of non-perishable food items for the food bank as well as over $140 in cash. Piper is shown delivering the food and money to Nichole Capps, a church member at the Elba Church of Christ.

ELBA HIGH SCHOOL CHEERLEADERS were set up outside the Elba Farmers Market last Saturday, June 6, working to raise funds for their organization at the high school. The cheerleaders were selling Elba Tiger gear along with soft drinks and bottled water. Cheerleaders pictured here include (from left): Zalie McKelvy, Adalyn O'Neal, Tia Germany, and La'Mya Anderson.

THERE WAS A LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE EARLY last Saturday June 6, for the opening of the Elba Farmers Market. Those attending were encouraged to maintain a 6-ft distance between one another and many further followed Alabama Department of Public Health [ADPH] health safety guidelines by wearing face masks to help combat the spread of COVID-19. These are common practices these days as the nation and world work to overcome the coronavirus pandemic, and the Elba Farmers Market did its part in encouraging its vendors and shoppers to follow the public health safety orders as outlined by ADPH. The photos above and to the right each show that.

Destiny Hudson welcomes everyone to the "opening" of the Elba Farmers Market on Saturday, June 6th.

I guess in a way the summer vacation has really just started for the school children, and that is why our grandson Lawson feels he has to find somewhere to swim almost every day. Last week he and his Mon went over to the old Bama Jam Park and spent the day in the water park that has reopened. I saw some pictures and videos of him having fun, and was told over the weekend they have a trip planned to the beach late this week. I know all the swimming trips will end once Melissa starts summer volleyball workouts, but for now Lawson is having a ball.

For what it is worth....

*** I got a chance to watch the Elba Tigers at work last week for a few minutes and was impressed, as they seemed ready to learn and more than ready to get back to work on the practice field. A large number of varsity players were at the workout, joined by a small group of junior high players, and everyone was busy at various places on the field with their coaches. Coach Sieving stated last week that he has a plan for June and they will go back and make changes for July, and if July is as successful as early-June seems to be, it looks like the Tigers will have a successful summer.

*** The Elba Lady Tigers got back into the gym this week for a month of summer drills and Coach Shaun Hammonds is convinced his team has a chance to make it back to the Final Four, despite moving up to Class 2A. The Lady Tigers have three starters back from last season's record breaking squad, and have a number of varsity reserves that got into most games and learned the system. Coach Hammonds will admit the team has two very big shoes to fill, but is excited and convinced that another banner season is only a few months away.

*** It looks like Major League Baseball may be the only professional sports organization that sits out the season due to the late start. The NBA has agreed to get back on the court, the soccer teams are already playing, the pro bowlers are back on the lanes, the NFL has set some times to get back to training camp, the PGA comes back this week and NASCAR is getting ready to bring back the fans. Major League Baseball; however, is still arguing about prorated salaries for the players due to a shortened season and from here in the not so cheap seats it simply looks like the 'billionaire' owners battling the 'millionaire' players. Forget the fans that have to save up for weeks just to attend a game, because in the end it isn't about the fans, only the money.

*** In closing... this Saturday is 'Free Fishing Day' in Alabama and that means for one day no one in the state needs a state license to fish. There is still a $3 charge to fish at most county lakes, but a state license will not be needed. Hey, the weatherman says the weather will be nice, so, c'mon out and wet your hook.

We in Coffee County are lucky to have one of the state's top 'county lakes' located just six miles west of Elba on County Road 364. The 83-acre lake is filled with bream, bass, catfish and crappie, and also has two covered picnic pavillions and two outdoor grills. It's not a long ride to enjoy the outdoors here in Coffee County.

*For summer workoutsLady Tigers are back in the gym

While many of the boys at Elba High have been hard at work for over a week in the weight room and on the football field preparing for the upcoming season, this week the girls will get to work as they hit the basketball court to begin a month of summer workouts.

"We are going to work out for a month from one until four every day in the afternoon and will work on conditioning, shooting and fundamentals," said Coach Shaun Hammonds. "We lost three seniors, including two starters off last year's team that made it to the Final Four, and need to try and find some players that have the work ethic and desire to jump into the lineup and help push us to even better things this season."

"We will tryouts in the fall for both the junior varsity and varsity teams," added Hammonds, "so, the summer workouts are more to find out who really wants to play and who will be willing to make the sacrifices we expect. Both the younger players and new varsity players will get the chance to see what I am about and find out what being a Lady Tiger is all about."

"We are all excited about getting back together and have a plan in effect to make sure we all stay safe," added Hammonds. "We have extra facemasks for those that need them and have enough basketballs for every player to use their own ball. The players will bring their own water bottles and towels, and we will practice social distancing at all times. We expect to have over a dozen players at workouts that played junior high last season and ten players back from the varsity. It should be a good squad that understands what we do, and that should make things a lot smoother."

"One thing we must not allow is for last season's success to make us feel like we will do it again without hard work," said Hammonds. "I hope it will make the girls even hungrier to make it back and win those last two games in Birmingham, and also push them to win some tournaments in the regular season. We are going to make the players realize what we can do and that here at Elba we always expect to win. We can't be complacent and can't afford to be satisfied just because we had a good season. It is now time to get back to work and to be willing to do whatever it takes to take that next step."

June 13 is 'free fishing day' in Alabama

On Saturday, June 13, 2020, Alabamians and out-of-state visitors alike will have the opportunity to fish for free in most public waters including both freshwater and saltwater. Free Fishing Day is part of National Fishing and Boating Week, which runs June 6-14. The event allows residents and non-residents to enjoy the outstanding fishing Alabama has to offer without purchasing a fishing license.

"This is the perfect opportunity for non-anglers to test the fishing waters and to remind former anglers of all the fun they've been missing," said Chris Blankenship, Commissioner of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR). "It's also a day for kids to learn how fun and exciting fishing is, while giving families a chance to do something together outdoors."

Free Fishing Day takes place during Alabama's red snapper season. While fishing license requirements are waived for Free Fishing Day, those fishing for red snapper will still need a $10 Gulf Reef Fish Endorsement and a free saltwater angler registration. For more information, visit www.outdooralabama.com/fishing/salt-water-recreational-size-creel-limits.

State Public Fishing Lakes still require a fishing permit on Free Fishing Day, and fishing in a private pond requires the pond owner's permission. Some piers may also require fees and permits. Anglers looking for a new public fishing spot are encouraged to explore the fishing section of www.outdooralabama.com.

ADCNR strongly encourages everyone to observe Alabama's current State Health Order and to practice CDC recommendations regarding hand washing and social distancing during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR) promotes wise stewardship, management and enjoyment of Alabama's natural resources through four divisions: Marine Resources, State Parks, State Lands, and Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries. AHSAA honors seven members that 'make a difference'

Seven individuals who have made an impact as exemplary role models have been selected as the 2020 Making a Difference Award recipients by the Alabama High School Athletic Association (AHSAA) and the Alabama High School Athletic Directors & Coaches Association (AHSADCA).

One recipient from each of the AHSAA's seven classifications was chosen from nominations submitted by AHSAA member schools and other support organizations or individuals. This year's recipients are Dr. Cathy Trimble, Francis Marion High School (1A) principal; Robin Tyra, Abbeville High School (2A) head football coach; Jeff Smith, Walter Wellborn High School (3A) athletic director and head football coach; Joe Clements, West Blocton High School (4A) teacher and assistant and assistant football coach; Philip Barry Baker, Chilton County High School (5A) teacher and trainer; Kim Kiel, Pelham City Schools (6A) athletic director; and David Dobbs, Hewitt-Trussville High School track and cross country coach (7A).

Each honoree will be recognized during the fall at a special presentation as their respective schools. A video presentation will also be produced by the AHSAA TV Network for release later this summer.

The Making a Difference Award was established in 2011 by the AHSAA and AHSADCA to recognize individuals who go beyond their normal duties as a coach, teacher or administrator to make a positive impact in their schools and communities. This year's recipients include one principal, two athletic directors, three football coaches, one certified athletic trainer, and one track and cross country coach. One of the football coaches also serves his school as AD.

"The recipients in this 2020 Making a Difference class are excellent examples of men and women who take their positions as role models for their students, faculty and community very seriously and have shown extraordinary determination in faces the challenges each has faced, said AHSAA Executive Director Steve Savarese. "Each has had a major positive impact in their communities and schools and across the state and are excellent choices for what this award stands for. This award is the most important honor a professional educator in our state can receive. Characteristics considered for this prestigious award include the recipient's character, integrity, determination and service, all of which have enabled these individuals to have a life-changing impact on the community or school where they serve."

Savarese said this special award exemplifies what makes education-based sports so important.

"This is one way we can honor our teachers, coaches and administrators for the example they set and the life lessons they teach on a daily basis," he said.

Scholarships presented to 10 children of state coaches

Ten Coaches' Children Scholarship winners for the 2019-20 school year have been selected by the Scholarship Committee of the Alabama High School Athletic Directors & Coaches Association (AHSADCA), announced Director Jamie Lee Wednesday.

The $1,000 need-based scholarships, presented for the 13th year by the AHSAA's coaches' organization, are being awarded to college-bound students whose parents are active members of the AHSADCA. Since 2008, the AHSADCA has awarded a total of $101,000 in scholarship funds to children of coaches or administrators in the AHSAA.

"We are pleased to provide this service once again from the AHSADCA to our member coaches and athletic directors," Lee said. "We are very thankful for our coaches and administrators who sacrifice so much as teachers and coaches to work with our student-athletes. Their families also make much sacrifice. This is one way the AHSADCA can show its appreciation and help the children at the same time. We are also proud to note that this year's awards puts the scholarship contributions over $100,000 overall since 2008. This is a welcome milestone for this organization to reach."
